“Doris is a special Aunt as she is my mother’s sister (Lois Shank). Doris was always so kind and quiet but she loved to laugh. She and my Mom would tell stories about when they were little and the funny things their brother Bruce would do. Like my Mom, Doris was very talented at needlework and one Christmas she knitted me an amazingly detailed wardrobe for my Barbies. I played with those clothes for years and my daughters also enjoyed those outfits many years later! I last visited with Doris in Florida ten years ago with my parents. I cherish the memory of seeing my Mom and Doris sitting together again, talking, laughing, and sharing memories.

“Many years ago Doris (Grandma) and Gene (Grandpa) stayed the weekend with my children while I visited their Dad who was working out of town. Upon my return Doris informed my four year old daughter had changed her underwear 13 times. She had only raised sons so she was new the ways little girls. She quickly adjusted and went on to become a great Girl Grandma, always finding each year whatever was on Meghan wishlist that Christmas. She even made a Christmas rabbit one year because that was what Meghan wanted. She also knitted different clothes for Meghan's over the top Barbie collection (which she helped build...lol). Grandma Doris will be severely missed by all especially by her 38 year old Grandson who describes her as the Ultimate Grandma.
